Producer

Based in Burgenland, Wachter-Wiesler is run by Julia and Christophe Wachter, who have reshaped the estate over the past 15 years with a decisive move away from convention. Certified organic, the domaine is focused on old-vine Blaufränkisch grown on schist and loam soils, expressing place with clarity and intent.

Tasting Notes

This wine is a splendid example of an everyday-drinking-white, which perfectly exemplifies the dark-spicy terroir of the region, although it is assembled from several grape varieties year after year. Handwork in the vineyard, hand picking, HANDGEMENGE*. The new brand HANDGEMENGE stands for the fun-emphasized, casual style of the wine - and for external observers sometimes quite rough-looking drinking and partying habits of the Burgenland-natives. *HANDGEMENGE = a funny looking, not too serious kind of turmoil. (In German language it additionally stands for “to assemble something by hand”.)
