MINCHINBURY

Producer

For more than a century, Australians have celebrated a life well lived with Minchinbury. Their story began in the 18th century when Captain William Minchin established a colonial property in Sydney. The property was purchased by Dr McKay who would go on to plant the first vines on the land establishing the Minchinbury brand in 1859. With a history stretching over three centuries, Minchinbury has been an integral part of the Australian wine landscape, celebrating Australian achievements, moments and milestones.

Tasting Notes

This Chardonnay, sourced from premium Australian wine regions, displays ripe peach and fig aromas that follow onto the palate, balanced by softly integrated oak and a crisp acidity. Delicious with chicken tagine.
