The winery's name is inspired by the family's values and its connection to the land, specifically reflecting the founder's daughter, Julia Zuccardi. As the business continues to grow, the winery remains dedicated to producing wines and olive oils that showcase their passion for the region and commitment to environmental stewardship. Today, Zuccardi is recognized as one of the most important wineries in Argentina, both for its contribution to the country's wine industry and its leadership in organic farming.

Tasting Notes

Deep golden yellow with amber-orange hues, this wine is highly aromatic, showcasing floral notes alongside tropical white fruits, finishing with a distinctive hint of orange peel. On the palate, it is fresh yet structured, with vibrant acidity, medium intensity, and a long, textured finish that reflects its skin-contact winemaking style.

Winemaking

Natural wines are produced with minimal human intervention. No sulfites are added, native yeasts are used, and the wine is bottled unfiltered. Fermentation takes place with indigenous yeasts and extended skin contact, followed by a 45-day post-fermentation maceration on the skins, which gives the wine its characteristic amber-orange color and added texture.
