Tasting Notes

Elegant, full-flavoured wine with supple dark cherry fruits, hints of sweet oak and a beautifully smooth finish.

Viticulture

The estate's 450 hectares of vineyard are situated in the heart of the Rioja Alavesa, sheltered below the Sierra Cantabria. The vineyards, mainly small plots and with old vines are planted on chalky-clay soils with low fertility, mainly on slopes and terraces. More than 1000 tiny plots are make up the patchwork nature of the property. Sustainable viticulture is the farming approach with the use of herbicides and synthetic fertilisers forbidden in order to protect the surroundings and obtain vines with a strengthened immune system so that they can defend themselves on their own. The Crianza comes from Tempranillo (95%) and Garnacha (5%) vineyards where the average age of the vines is 30 years old.
