Founded by Jean Bousquet after arriving in Argentina in 1990, Domaine Bousquet is a pioneering estate in Gualtallary, high in the Uco Valley. Established where viticulture was once considered impossible, the project has grown to 240 ha and is built around a clear vision of quality-driven, organically farmed wines shaped by altitude and place.

Tasting Notes

Vibrant purple in colour. An aromatic, heady bouquet of raspberry, bitter chocolate and spice leads to a juicy and rich palate with layers of lush black cherry, mocha and mineral. Soft, elegant tannins and refreshing acidity round out and support the generous core of primary fruit. A classic example of Argentinian Malbec.

Viticulture

The estate consists of 240 hectares in Gualtallary, Tupungato, Uco Valley (Mendoza). The Malbec grapes for this wine come Tupungato, Alto Gualtallary on a soil of gravel and sand. The altitude, in the foothills of the Andes, is 1200 meters and this location provides the vineyards with a cool climate and constant fresh air. Rainfall averages only 200mm per year and so the vines are irrigated by a drop-by-drop system using Andean mountain run-off. The pH of the water is low resulting in higher acidity in the grapes as well as more colour. The desert-like climate has a huge 15° C day/night temperature differential. Farming is organic.

Winemaking

6 months on French oak.
