BADIA A PASSIGNANO

Producer

Situated above the town of Sambuca Val di Pesa, just 3km south of the Tignanello estate, Badia a Passignano extends over 223 hectares of which 65 are under vine. This imposing abbey is believed to have been founded in 395. The vineyards are mostly planted with Sangiovese at 250 to 300 metres above sea level, aiding the aromatics in the grapes that define the quality of these wines. Aged in Hungarian oak, the style is very traditional and refined, with more than a glimpse of the vineyard expression in the glass.

Tasting Notes

Tasting Notes Badia a Passignano 2019 is ruby red in color. Intense on the nose with notes of ripe red fruit, liqueur cherries, and sour cherries together with citrusy hints of red oranges and delicate floral sensations of lavender. Its complex bouquet is completed by sweet notes of vanilla and pleasant spicy aromas of cloves and leather. On the palate the mouth filling entry is sustained by silky, vibrant tannins than accompany a lengthy finish, persistent and sapid, with a pleasant aftertaste of bitter cocoa and citrus.

Viticulture

Badia a Passignano Gran Selezione is produced exclusively from a selection of the finest grapes cultivated in the property of the same name located in the Chianti Classico production zone. The Badia di Passignano, around which the vineyards are situated,

Winemaking

Vinification After destemming, the berries were carefully selected and gently crushed. Alcoholic fermentation lasted for a period of 10 days and was followed by an additional period of 10-12 days of maceration on the skins. After the wine was racked and malolactic fermentation was complete, the wine was aged in Hungarian oak barrels, and a small percentage in French oak, for several months. During this phase, the wine was tasted consistently to determine the maximum expression of oak aging. Badia Passignano was bottled on the estate and continued to age in the bottle before being released for sale.
