Producer

Jose Cuervo is the world's oldest tequila maker, from the town of Tequila in western Mexico. In 1758 José Antonio de Cuervo received a land grant there, and in 1795 the family was granted a royal licence to produce, opening the first distillery, La Rojeña, which still makes Jose Cuervo tequila today. We list Especial Silver and Especial Gold, the mixing classics, and Tradicional Silver, a 100% agave tequila.

Tasting Notes

The best Blue Agave is handpicked, pruned, slow baked, pressed, distilled and then aged in oak barrels. Especial Reposado is rested in American Oak Barrels for 4 months. The tequila is great served in a margarita or Paloma or as an ice-cold shot.
