Producer

Established in 1975 by Serge Ferigoule this leading Vacqueyras domaine sits on the red clay/ limestone Plateau des Garrigues. Biodynamically farmed, the wines are known for intensity, mineral grip and longevity.

Tasting Notes

A blend of Grenache Blanc, Clairette and Viognier. Quite possibly the most thrilling white wine from the Southern Rhône.

Viticulture

Le Sang des Cailloux is situated on a plateau, surrounded by the 'garrigue' (the natural, undeveloped countryside common in the south of France) and opposite the limestone hills of Les Dentelles de Montmirail, between the villages of Vacqueyras and Sarrians. Bathed in sunlight but swept by the Mistral wind, the 17 hectares of the domaine are farmed biodynamically. The soil is composed of limestone and reddish/brown clay with a layer of large quartz stones on the surface. The plots are planted with Grenache Blanc, Clairette, Viognier, Bourboulenc, Roussanne and Marsanne for the whites. Harvesting is done by hand.
