A 24ha family estate run by tenth generation Stéphane Montez in Chavanay, a village in Condrieu. Working across steep, granite-influenced sites, the focus is on clarity of fruit and a precise expression of Syrah shaped by slope and exposure.

Tasting Notes

Marsaanne/Roussanne. Light straw colour. Well developed, refined nose of orchard fruits and white flowers. A bold wine with good minerality an a long finish.

Viticulture

The 24 hectare estate covers 3 appellations in the Northern Rhône; St. Joseph, Condrieu and Côte-Rôtie. The grapes are grown on very steep, terraced vineyards on the right bank of the river and are protected from the prevailing westerly winds by the neighbouring Mont du Pilat. Minimum intervention is the viticultural approach and all the vineyard work has to be done manually due to the steep gradients. Les Hauts du Monteillet Blanc, a blend of Roussanne, Marsanne, Viognier, Clairette and Chardonnay, comes from young vineyards on the estate and also from parcels that have been planted outside of the appellations` boundaries. The soils, depending on the plots are composed of granite, gneiss, schist and migmatite. Harvesting is done by hand.
