A 24ha family estate run by tenth generation Stéphane Montez in Chavanay, a village in Condrieu. Working across steep, granite-influenced sites, the focus is on clarity of fruit and a precise expression of Syrah shaped by slope and exposure.

Tasting Notes

Viognier. Light straw yellow colour; very fragrant nose with acacia, honey and toast. Palate is taut, straight and mineral with a long finish.

Viticulture

The 24 hectare estate covers 3 appellations in the Northern Rhône; St. Joseph, Condrieu and Côte-Rôtie. The grapes are grown on very steep, terraced vineyards on the right bank of the river and are protected from the prevailing westerly winds by the neighbouring Mont du Pilat. Minimum intervention is the viticultural approach and all the vineyard work has to be done manually due to the steep gradients. The Viognier for this Condrieu 'Les Grandes Chaillées' comes from 8 separate vineyards in the villages of Chavanay, Saint Michel sur Rhône, Condrieu and Vérinold grown on a loose granite soil known locally as arzelle. Harvesting is done by hand.
