TerraMater

Producer

Founded in 1996 by sisters Edda, Gilda and Antonieta Canepa, TerraMater is a family estate rooted in Italian heritage and based in central Chile. Alongside international recognition for their olive oils, the winery has quietly developed a focused wine portfolio shaped by old vines and a clear sense of identity under winemaker Paula Cifuentes.

Tasting Notes

Colour: Attractive red color with purple tones. Aromas: Pleasant and aromatic nose. Aromas of raisins mainly and figs, very typical of this variety. Also some blackberries and cherries. Flavors: Wine with good body and structure. Soft and juicy tannins. Ripe berry flavors. Persistent finish.

Winemaking

Vines between 40 and 50 years old. Clay loam deep colluvial soil, with a Mediterranean weather. Harvest: Good conditions of temperature and luminosity in spring and without rain. Good grapes and good ripeness. Bigger grapes and the yields were better than the previous harvest.
